This is certainly a topic whose time has come. The mystery of death has been the subject of cover stories in national news magazines, NPR, PBS, and major television networks. The presenter, Gary Werdesheim, Professor Emeritus, Florida State University College of Music, draws upon over four decades of independent study, as well as his experience as a hospice volunteer. A variety of audiences have found this material to be inspiring, comforting, and certainly thought provoking. These talks have been presented locally at Big Bend Hospice, Temple Israel, Unity Eastside, the Senior Center, the Healing Arts Alliance, the Abundance Wellness Center, and in California at Touro University Medical School (Vallejo), and Marin Stress Management Center (Larkspur).
