

Dying Consciously: The Greatest Journey

A project of the Institute for Energy Medicine

The Great Migration (detail) © 2007 Melinda Allec

The Greatest Journey is a service dedicated to helping people make their final transition. It is designed for all persons involved in the dying process: the individual, family members and friends. The Greatest Journey shows us that we can come to the end of a life with grace.

In this class:

- Learn the Great Rites as practiced by historic traditions and offer them to the dying person
- Understand the kind of psychological and emotional closure needed for healing a loved one and assist a peaceful transition
- Recognize the brain's role in the dying process and why it's important to know this
- Have the experience of the Luminous Body
- Have hands-on practice of processes which create healing for the dying and release fear
- Understand the beauty and energetic importance of ceremony and ritual, and
- Most of all, learn how to keep yourself healthy and strong during the process
