We have all experienced trauma setbacks on our journey that have threatened our trust in ourselves and in the world around us.

Whatever picture of our past we keep in our heart, or anywhere in our system, is what we broadcast, and what people pick up. Even people who run from their past, have not removed the negative image they carry in their hearts.

We can allow our memories to affect us, or not. We can resolve our situation, or not. We can live in inner peace with our past, or we may allow our energy to drain by holding on to unresolved hurts.

Yet, we can courageously stand for our true selves, resolve our hurts and hold the most perfect relationships in our hearts and then our outer relationships will follow.

Yes, you can do it. We invite you to energetically release negative patterns, emotions, limiting beliefs and energy constrictions that may be unrecognized or unresolved.

With your commitment to change, along with Susana's highest intention for your well being, a unique energetic alchemy happens that supports you in connecting to your inner strength, to trust yourself in times of personal and life challenges.
