

Nia Fundraiser Dance for #teamdrewCTSf

ABOUT #TEAMDREWCTSf

Drew Anderson son of FSU Alumni Brianne and Adam Anderson, was recently diagnosed with a rare genetic disorder called Tay-Sachs. Tay-Sachs progressively destroys nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord causing many symptoms including blindness, paralysis and seizures. At this stage there is no cure for Tay-Sachs but there is hope for Drew through a treatment known as Gene Therapy.

Because there are currently only a handful of children like Drew battling Tay-Sachs in the U.S., financial backing for Gene Therapy has been extremely difficult.

Dance and feel amazing.

Dance and make a difference!

DANCE FOR A CAUSE

Our goal as a Nia community is to raise funds through this dance to donate 100% of the proceeds to Cure Tay-Sachs Foundation (CTSf). Your contribution will help CTSf fund ongoing research needed to develop treatments such as Gene Therapy in order to help find a cure for Tay-Sachs Disease.

Let's give #teamdrewCTSf hope!

Cure Tay-Sachs Foundation (CTSf), is a group of parents like the Andersons who are joining forces to initiate community involvement and to help spread awareness for Tay-Sachs Disease.
